Both teams played poor baseball when it came to running the bases, as they both three away enough chances to win any ball game. In six innings out of the nine Central had men on the bases, only to lose their chance for a score by trying to bave the runner advance an extra base on an impossible chance.

Tech had the same fault, and in the first man up, was kiven a life by Harishorn's error, only to be picked off the bag a moment later by a quick throw from Cox. Rooney was given free transportation, stole second, and was picked off the bag by a throw from Cox to Hartshorn. Jake Roberts life a single to price.

Ditcher was probably never in better condition than he was yesterday, when. He was third in the credit of Gallaudet a triumph that any collegiate nine would care to possess.

Big Six"-was touched by the visitors' battern for only three bingles, sent ten of them to the bench via the strike-out route, and walked only two. Without taking any honor from this big pitcher, praise should go to Peterson, who did the mound duty for Ursinus. Peterson pitched a steady game throughout, and but for the swift bingle made off him by Rockwell in the eighth, which resulted in Gallaudet's lone tally, would likely have held his opponents scoress.
